

EXPLORING PASTELS
with Susie Home
19th – 25th May 2019

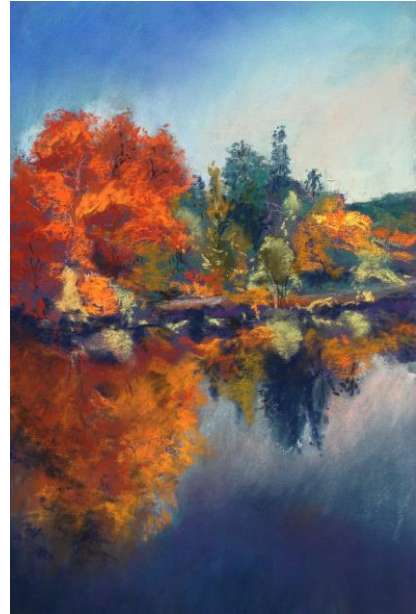

One of my real passions is pastel painting and I love sharing the knowledge that I have gained over 20 years or so of working with them.

I first discovered pastels when I studied the Impressionists at Art College many years ago, but such was the way art colleges worked in those days that nothing like that was ever taught, so it was many years later that I decided to 'have a go' for myself - such a big learning curve which constantly continues.

I have introduced many of my art holiday guests to the joys of pastels over the 15 years that I have been running courses here in France, but this is the first time I have decided to devote a whole week's course purely to pastels.

So if you are interested in learning more about these beautiful sticks of colour and the methods of making pictures with them, or want to develop your budding interest in them more & to produce more exciting pictures ...this is the week for you. Don't be shy, come along and join an adventure with colour, texture and maybe even mixing them with other mediums to create exciting and attractive pictures to be proud of, as well as a sound basic knowledge of their versatility.

If you would like to join us for this week, or you would like further information please get in touch.
